Course Description
This course uses the discipline of anthropology to answer the question: How should one view cultural difference? We will explore this question through the theoretical prism of anthropology and case studies provided by ethnographic films. Specifically, we will discuss (a) the problems with ethnocentric portrayals of different cultures in mainstream cinema (ethnocentrism); (b) how cultures see themselves (the emic perspective); (c) whether we can compare cultures to each other (etic perspective); and finally, (d) what happens when different cultures interact with each other in a globalized world (globalization).

Learning Objectives
1. Students will be able to understand the anthropological conception of culture.
2. Students will be able to identify and challenge ethnocentric thinking.

3. Students will gain a working appreciation for the anthropological methods of cultural relativism and participant observation.

4. Students will be able to identify the emic concepts and categories significant to particular societies.

5. Students will be able to analyze the etic categories of cultural classification in anthropology.

6. Students will work in groups to apply anthropological theories to case studies of globalization.

</tr>
</tbody>

Students can learn their current grade in the course by going to My Grades and looking at the percentage score in the Weighted Total column.

A. Discussions (8 Forums worth 5 points each for 20% of final grade)

Throughout the course, there will be 8 Discussions in which students are required to participate. Upon completion of the assigned readings, lectures and viewings, students are expected to engage in an ongoing discussion with their classmates. Students will respond to the Discussion prompts or questions with one original response. To post an original response, students will click on the ‘Create Thread’ tab. This original response will be due by Thursday (at 11:59 pm) of weeks when a discussion is due. After submitting the original response, students will then respond to at least two responses from other students. Remember to click on ‘Quote’ tab when responding. The two responses will be due before Sunday (at 11:59 pm) of weeks when discussions are due. Discussion posts will be graded for originality and thoughtfulness. Out of the 5 points possible for each Discussion, the original post will be graded out of 3 points, and the additional two responses will be worth one point each.

Two issues to consider when doing Discussions:

- For Discussions #3, #4, #7, #8 (Lessons 5, 6, 12, 13), students will discuss a given film in smaller groups. During Lesson 5, students will select a region on which to focus. This region will determine which films they view for Lessons 5, 6, 7, and 13, as well as their discussion group for Discussions #3, #4, 7, 8.
- When writing discussion posts, keep courtesy in mind: Please be courteous to the other students in the class. You might find it helpful to read your posting out loud before you submit it: the "tone" is a very important part of electronic communication. When you read your message out loud does it sound the way you would speak to another student in the classroom? If not, you should rewrite it.

2. Online Quizzes (5 worth 20 points each for 40% of final grade)

There will be five quizzes throughout this course that cover online lectures and reading material (with the exception of the first quiz which will cover this syllabus and schedule!). Students can access quizzes by clicking on the Complete file in the designated Lesson. Each quiz will consist of 15-20 questions worth 1-3 points each (for total of 20 points) and will consist of multiple-choice questions. After completing quizzes, students can see which questions they got wrong and be directed to sections in the reading/lecture where the correct answer can be found. Then, students are allowed to re-take each quiz for one additional attempt. The final score will be calculated by taking the average of the two attempts (thus, giving you the possibility of gaining back 50% of missed points on the first attempt).

Students will have 30 minutes to complete each quiz and it can be accessed only one time once started. Save answers often (every 5-10 minutes). If a student experiences any computer problems while taking the exam, he or she must contact the Helpdesk immediately so that the issue is documented with a helpdesk ticket number. Without a ticket number, the instructor will not be able to help. Considerations regarding exam issues will be made by the instructor on an individual basis based on the documentation. After each quiz is graded and released, students may check answers via the My Grades tab.

Quizzes will cover the following material:

Quiz 1: The Syllabus & Schedule
Quiz 2: Unit 1
Quiz 3: Unit 2
Quiz 4: Unit 3
Quiz 5: Unit 4

3. Assignments (4 worth 20 points each for 40% of final grade)

There will be four writing assignments throughout the term. For each assignment, students will submit a short piece of writing that builds on course material. The assignments will be submitted via Turnitin, which is an internet-based academic writing service. Assignments submitted via any other medium (e.g., email) will not be accepted. Additionally, late work will not be accepted. If students provide medical documentation (signed by a medical professional) of an inability to complete the assignment by the deadline, they will be allowed to submit at a later date. The assignments will be graded out of 20 points. Grading rubrics for each assignment will be made available to students. After assignments are graded, students will be able to view the grader’s comments and rationale for assigning the grade. To do so, click on My Grades, then the assignment, then the particular paper, and once within the assignment make sure to click on the Grademark tab in the upper bar (middle option).

Course Schedule

A schedule of the course’s lessons and due dates is available on the course website under the tab: Course Content/Course Introduction and within the Essential Documents tab.

COURSE POLICIES

1. Assignment Policy

Assignments will be due four times throughout the course at 11:59 on the following dates: February 11th, March 11th, and April 8th, and May 4th. Students are required to submit written assignments for this class to Turnitin, a web-based submission system. After submitting via turnitin, students should receive an email documentation of their submission. IF YOU DIDN’T RECEIVE AN EMAIL FROM TURNITIN, YOU DIDN’T TURN IN THE PAPER!!! All works submitted for credit must be original works created by the scholar uniquely for the class (trust me: it is easy to detect plagiarism). Papers submitted via any other medium (e.g., email) will not be accepted. If students provide medical documentation (signed by a medical professional) of an inability to complete the assignment by the deadline, they will be allowed to submit at a later date.

2. Quiz Policy

Quizzes will be due at 11:59 pm on the following dates: January 21st, February 18th, March 11th, April 15th, and May 11th. For each quiz, students are allowed one retake before the due date, but never after the deadline as make-up quizzes will not be allowed UNLESS the student provides the instructor with medical documentation (signed by medical professional) that attests to his/her inability to complete the quiz by the given time deadline. If the student loses an internet connection while taking the exam, 1) the student is to call the student IT help desk, explain the situation and receive a ticket number; 2) then write the instructor with the IT ticket # (the instructor will not respond to your request without a ticket #).

4. Extra Credit

There will be two opportunities for students to earn extra credit. Students will receive one percentage extra credit for completing the IAS course evaluation at the end of the term. Additionally, on quiz 5 there will be two core course evaluation questions that will be counted as extra credit.

5. Instructor Communication

   a) The instructor will be happy to answer questions regarding lectures, grades, discussions, assignments, quizzes, projects or anything covered in the course.

   b) Students can expect to hear back from the instructor within 24 hours of the initial email (48 hours on the weekend).

   c) Students are expected to state their name and course number in the subject line of emails.

   d) Please use a respectful and polite tone in emails. Do NOT ask questions covered in this syllabus! And if using a mobile device, remember to proofread your message before sending!

6. Class Participation

Students are required to login regularly to the online class site. The instructor will use the tracking feature in Blackboard to monitor student activity. Students are also required to participate in all class activities such as discussion board and group projects.

7. Virtual Classroom Citizenship

The same guidelines that apply to traditional classes should be observed in the virtual classroom environment. Please use proper netiquette when interacting with class members and the professor.

8. Copyright Notice

Some or all of the materials on this course Web site may be protected by copyright. Federal copyright law prohibits the reproduction, distribution, public performance, or public display of copyrighted materials without the express and written permission of the copyright owner, unless fair use or another exemption under copyright law applies.

9. Administrative Withdrawal

If the student is unable to complete this course, the student must officially withdraw by the University-designated date (for a “W” with instructor approval) or contact the instructor in request of an incomplete. Withdrawing from a course is a formal procedure that the student must initiate. I cannot do it for you. If you simply stop attending and do not withdraw, you will receive a performance grade, usually an “F.”

10. Policy on Server Unavailability or Other Technical Difficulties

The University is committed to providing a reliable online course system to all users. However, in the event of any unexpected server outage or any unusual technical difficulty which prevents students from completing a time sensitive assessment activity, the instructor will extend the time windows and provide an appropriate accommodation based on the situation. Students should immediately report any problems to the instructor and also contact the UNT Student Help Desk: helpdesk@unt.edu or 940.565.2324. The instructor and the UNT Student Help Desk will work with the student to resolve any issues at the earliest possible time.

11. Academic Honesty Policy

The Department of Anthropology does not tolerate plagiarism, cheating, or helping others to cheat. Students suspected of any of these will be provided the opportunity for a hearing; a guilty finding will merit an automatic “F” in the course. For information on the University’s policies regarding academic integrity and dishonesty, see the UNT Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities, http://www.unt.edu/csrr/.

12. ADA Policy

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at http://disability.unt.edu/. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.
13. Important Notice for F-1 Students taking Distance Education Courses:

For F–1 students enrolled in classes for credit or classroom hours, no more than the equivalent of one class or three credits per session, term, semester, trimester, or quarter may be counted toward the full course of study requirement if the class is taken on-line or through distance education and does not require the student’s physical attendance for classes, examination or other purposes integral to completion of the class. An on-line or distance education course is a course that is offered principally through the use of television, audio, or computer transmission including open broadcast, closed circuit, cable, microwave, or satellite, audio conferencing, or computer conferencing. If the F–1 student’s course of study is in a language study program, no on-line or distance education classes may be considered to count toward a student’s full course of study requirement.

University of North Texas Compliance

To comply with immigration regulations, an F-1 visa holder within the United States may need to engage in an on-campus experiential component for this course. This component (which must be approved in advance by the instructor) can include activities such as taking an on-campus exam, participating in an on-campus lecture or lab activity, or other on-campus experience integral to the completion of this course.

If such an on-campus activity is required, it is the student’s responsibility to do the following:

(1) Submit a written request to the instructor for an on-campus experiential component within one week of the start of the course.

(2) Ensure that the activity on campus takes place and the instructor documents it in writing with a notice sent to the International Student and Scholar Services Office. ISSS has a form available that you may use for this purpose.

Because the decision may have serious immigration consequences, if an F-1 student is unsure about his or her need to participate in an on-campus experiential component for this course, s/he should contact the UNT International Student and Scholar Services Office (telephone 940-565-2195 or email internationaladvising@unt.edu) to get clarification before the one-week deadline.
