

Department of Anthropology Racial Justice Scholarship Announcement

The Department of Anthropology Scholarship Committee is pleased to announce to UNT Anthropology Scholarship for Racial Justice for this academic year. To apply for this scholarship, complete and submit the accompanying form and all other required materials to the Anthropology Front Desk via email anthfrontdesk@unt.edu by the Third Monday of October at 5:00pm. Please pay careful attention to the scholarship selection criteria and application materials listed below.

Purpose

The purpose of the UNT Anthropology Scholarship for Racial Justice is to provide scholarships for Anthropology graduate and undergraduate students at the University of North Texas whose research and/or service work focuses on issues related to racial justice and equality. The awardee will receive a $1,000 scholarship and will be recognized for their accomplishments.

Eligibility

- Applicants must be actively working on a research and/or service project focused on issues related to racial justice and equality
- Applicants must be enrolled as a student majoring in Anthropology within in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences
- Maintain at least half-time enrollment if an undergraduate student or at least three-quarter time enrollment if a graduate student at the time of application
- Have a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 at the time of application

Application Materials:

- Applicants must submit a personal statement of no more than 500 words that explains why they are a strong candidate for this scholarship and how their research project and/or service work addresses issues of racial justice and equality
- Applicants must submit an up-to-date resume or CV (curriculum vitae)
- Applicants must submit a copy of their unofficial transcript, with all anthropology courses highlighted for visibility.
- No letter of recommendation is required

Preference may be given to:

- First-generation students; and/or
- Applicants that demonstrate eligibility for need-based financial assistance as determined by completion of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) (or its successor), which includes an application process that contains written release from the student to share FAFSA information between University departments and donors coordinating related award processes.

Department of Anthropology
Racial Justice Scholarship Application

Name (last, first, middle initial):

Preferred Name:

Address:

Telephone:

UNT EUID #:

STUDENT ID #:

Major:

Anticipated date of graduation:

Cumulative GPA (includes both UNT and transfer work):

UNT GPA:

Name of Recommender:

Name, Title/Role, and Department (if applicable) of Recommender:

Recommender's Contact information:

Please email your letter of support to anthfrontdesk@unt.edu with the subject line "Racial Justice Scholarship Application." If you or they prefer, you may turn in the support letter from your recommender in person to the front desk. The deadline for the letter of support is also the Third Monday of October at 5:00pm.