Course Description

This course uses the discipline of anthropology to answer the question: How should one view cultural difference? We will explore this question through the theoretical prism of anthropology and case studies provided by ethnographic films. Specifically, we will discuss (a) the problems with ethnocentric portrayals of different cultures in mainstream cinema (ethnocentrism); (b) how cultures see themselves (the emic perspective); (c) whether we can compare cultures to each other (etic perspective); and finally, (d) what happens when different cultures interact with each other in a globalized world (globalization).

Learning Objectives

1. Students will be able to understand the anthropological conception of culture.
2. Students will be able to identify and challenge ethnocentric thinking.
3. Students will gain a working appreciation for the anthropological methods of cultural relativism and participant observation.
4. Students will be able to identify the emic concepts and categories significant to particular societies.
5. Students will be able to analyze the etic categories of cultural classification in anthropology.
6. Students will work in groups to apply anthropological theories to case studies of globalization.

Technical Skill Requirements

To be successful in this class, students will need to be able to: download and upload files, send and receive emails and navigate Canvas.

Netiquette

Virtual Classroom Citizenship

The same guidelines that apply to traditional classes should be observed in the virtual classroom environment. Please use proper netiquette when interacting with class members and the professor.

How the Course is Organized

This class consists of 4 units within which there are 14 lessons. We will cover one lesson per week, one unit per three or four weeks. For each lesson, students will be expected to click on the corresponding link and fulfill the requirements there within, such as: listen to a lecture, read from the assigned text, articles and websites, view a film, discuss key questions with classmates, signup for regional groups, submit assignments, complete quizzes, play games, and do exercises. All assignments, quizzes, and blogs will be due on the last day of each lesson, Sundays at 11:59pm. The two exceptions will be the final paper, due on Friday, December 6th, and the final quiz 5, which is due on the Wednesday of Final's week, December 11th at 11:59pm.

Discussions have an alternative schedule and will always be due in two parts: the first original post due on Thursday and two responses due on Sunday.

What Should Students Do First?

Upon entering the Canvas course website for the first time, students should:

1. Click on the Modules tab in the left margin
2. Open the Course Introduction lesson
3. Watch the introduction video
4. Take Course Survey
5. Download and read syllabus

6. Download and read course schedule
7. Take Quiz 1, which covers the syllabus and course schedule (due Sunday, September 1).

When starting each new lesson, students should:

1. Follow the instructions in each Lesson folder:

Listen to: Download the lecture/slideshow, listen to the audio recording of the lecture/slideshow. Occasionally, this link will include radio recordings and links to websites. Please note that you may click on the cc tab in the lower right side of the screen to access the lecture's captions.

Read: Read the required pages in the textbook; and any additional web articles or pdf files.

View: Follow the link to the Lesson's designated film. Login using your euid and password.

Discuss: Read the prompt and instructions, and follow the links to the Lesson's Discussion.

Complete: Follow the link to and take the Unit's quiz.

Submit: Read the instructions and follow the link to submit the Lesson's assignment.

Sign up: In Lesson 5, students will sign up for groups according to different world regions: Central America, West Africa, South Asia, Southeast Asia, and Oceania.

Play: In Lessons 8 & 9 you will play interactive exchange games on which those weeks discussion will be based.

Do: In Lessons 13 & 14, you will do short (ungraded) exercises that require applying your understanding of theories to case studies.

Course Requirements

1. The student will access and follow all course instructions found in the Modules area of the course's Canvas page.
2. The student will listen to all online lectures provided in Listen to files in each lesson.
3. The student will read all required text readings, pdf files and web articles in the Read files in each lesson.
4. The student will view all required films, which can be accessed in the View files in each lesson.

5. The student will complete the assigned 'online' quizzes by accessing the complete files at the end of Lesson 4, 7, 11, and Finals.
6. The student will respond to posted online course discussion questions using the Canvas discussion forum in Lessons 1, 2, 5, 8, 9, 12, and 13.
7. The student will write and submit assignments electronically in Lessons 3, 6, 10, 14.

Grading

Grades will be determined according to the following weighted categories:

Category	% of final grade	Final grade % per graded submission
7 Discussions	10	1.43
5 Quizzes	50	10
4 Assignments	40	10

Students can learn their current grade in the course by going to My Grades and looking at the percentage score in the Weighted Total column.

Grading Scale

90-100	A
80-89	B
70-79	C
60-69	D
Below 60	F

A. Discussions (7 Forums worth 5 points each for 10% of final grade)

Throughout the course, there will be 7 Discussions in which students are required to participate. Upon completion of the assigned readings, lectures and viewings, students are expected to engage in an ongoing discussion with their classmates. Students will respond to the Discussion prompts or questions with one original response. To post an original response, students will write their response in the Reply box below the prompt. This original response will be due by Thursday (at 11:59 pm) of weeks when a discussion is due. After submitting the original response, students will then respond to at least two responses from other students. The two responses will be due before Sunday (at 11:59 pm) of weeks when discussions are due. Discussion posts will be graded for originality and thoughtfulness. Out of the 5 points possible for each Discussion, the original post will be graded out of 3 points, and the additional two responses will be worth one point each.

Two issues to consider when doing Discussions:

- For Discussions #3, #6, #7 (Lessons 5, 12, 13), students will discuss a given film in smaller groups. During Lesson 5, students will select a region on which to focus. This region will determine which films they view for Lessons 6, 7, 12-14, as well as their discussion group for Discussions #3, 6, 7.
- When writing discussion posts, keep courtesy in mind: Please be courteous to the other students in the class. You might find it helpful to read your posting out loud before you submit it: the "tone" is a very important part of electronic communication. When you read your message out loud does it sound the way you would speak to another student in the classroom? If not, you should rewrite it.

2. Online Quizzes (5 worth 20 points each for 50% of final grade)

There will be five quizzes throughout this course that cover online lectures and reading material (with the exception of the first quiz which will cover this syllabus and schedule!). Students can access quizzes by clicking on the Complete file in the designated Lesson. Each quiz will consist of 15-20 questions worth 1-3 points each (for total of 20 points) and will consist of multiple choice questions. After completing quizzes, students can see which questions they got wrong and be directed to sections in the reading/lecture where the correct answer can be found. Then, students are allowed to re-take each quiz for one additional attempt. The final score will be calculated by taking the average of the two attempts (thus, giving you the possibility of gaining back 50% of missed points on the first attempt).

Students will have 50 minutes to complete each quiz and it can be accessed only one time once started. Save answers often (every 5-10 minutes). If a student experiences any computer problems while taking the exam, he or she must contact the Helpdesk immediately so that the issue is documented with a helpdesk ticket number. Without a ticket number, the instructor will not be able to help. Considerations regarding exam issues will be made by the instructor on an individual basis based on the documentation. After each quiz is graded and released, students may check answers via the My Grades tab.

Quizzes will cover the following material:

Quiz 1: The Syllabus & Schedule

Quiz 2: Unit 1

Quiz 3: Unit 2

Quiz 4: Unit 3

Quiz 5: Unit 4

3. Assignments (4 worth 20 points each for 40% of final grade)

There will be four writing assignments throughout the term. For each assignment, students will submit a short piece of writing that builds on course material. The assignments will be submitted via Canvas. Assignments submitted via any other medium (e.g.-email) will not be accepted. Additionally, late work will not be accepted. If students provide medical documentation (signed by a medical professional) of an inability to complete the assignment by the deadline, they will be allowed to submit at a later date. The assignments will be graded out of 20 points. Grading rubrics for each assignment will be made available to students. After assignments are graded, students will be able to view the grader's comments and rationale for assigning the grade.

Course Schedule

A schedule of the course's lessons and due dates is available on the course website under the tab: Course Content/Course Introduction and within the Essential Documents tab.

COURSE POLICIES

1. Assignment Policy

Assignments will be due three times throughout the course at midnight on the following dates: September 22nd, October 13th, November 10th, and December 6th. All works submitted for credit must be original works created by the scholar uniquely for the class (trust me: it is easy to detect plagiarism). Papers submitted via any other medium (e.g.-email) will not be accepted. If students provide medical documentation (signed by a medical professional) of an inability to complete the assignment by the deadline, they will be allowed to submit at a later date. [Please note that all students are allowed access to the student health center regardless of insurance status]

2. Quiz Policy

Quizzes will be due at 11:59 pm on the following dates: September 1st, September 29th, October 20th, November 17th, and December 11th. For each quiz, students are allowed one retake before the due date, but never after the deadline as make-up quizzes will not be allowed UNLESS the student provides the instructor with medical documentation (signed by medical professional) that attests to his/her inability to complete the quiz by the given time deadline. If the student loses an internet connection while taking the exam, 1) the student is to call the student IT help desk, explain the situation and receive a ticket number; 2) then write the instructor with the IT ticket # (the instructor will not respond to your request without a ticket #).

4. Extra Credit

There will be two opportunities for students to earn extra credit. If over 67% of the class submits the SPOT evaluation at the end of the semester, the entire class will receive 1% extra credit added to their final grade. Additionally, on quiz 5 there will be two core course evaluation questions that will be counted as extra credit to the quiz score.

5. Instructor Communication

- a) The instructor will be happy to answer questions regarding lectures, grades, discussions, assignments, quizzes, projects or any anything covered in the course.
- b) Students can expect to hear back from the instructor within 24 hours of the initial email (48 hours on the weekend).
- c) Students are expected to state their name and course number in the subject line of emails.
- d) Please use a respectful and polite tone in emails. Do NOT ask questions covered in this syllabus! And if using a mobile device, remember to proofread your message before sending!

6. Class Participation

Students are required to login regularly to the online class site. The instructor will use the tracking feature in Canvas to monitor student activity. Students are also required to participate in all class activities such as discussion board and group projects.

7. Virtual Classroom Citizenship

The same guidelines that apply to traditional classes should be observed in the virtual classroom environment. Please use proper netiquette when interacting with class members and the professor.

8. Copyright Notice

Some or all of the materials on this course Web site may be protected by copyright. Federal copyright law prohibits the reproduction, distribution, public performance, or public display of copyrighted materials without the express and written permission of the copyright owner, unless fair use or another exemption under copyright law applies.

9. Administrative Withdrawal

If the student is unable to complete this course, the student must officially withdraw by the University-designated date (for a “W” with instructor approval) or contact the instructor in request of an incomplete. Withdrawing from a course is a formal procedure that the student must initiate. I cannot do it for you. If you simply stop attending and do not withdraw, you will receive a performance grade, usually an “F.”

10. Policy on Server Unavailability or Other Technical Difficulties

The University is committed to providing a reliable online course system to all users. However, in the event of any unexpected server outage or any unusual technical difficulty which prevents students from completing a time sensitive assessment activity, the instructor will extend the time windows and provide an appropriate accommodation based on the situation. Students should immediately report any problems to the instructor and also contact the UNT Student Help Desk: helpdesk@unt.edu or 940.565.2324. The instructor and the UNT Student Help Desk will work with the student to resolve any issues at the earliest possible time.

11. Academic Honesty Policy

The Department of Anthropology does not tolerate plagiarism, cheating, or helping others to cheat. Students suspected of any of these will be provided the opportunity for a hearing; a guilty finding will merit an automatic “F” in the course. For information on the University’s policies regarding academic integrity and dishonesty, see the UNT Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities, <http://www.unt.edu/csrr/>.

12. ADA Policy

The University of North Texas makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the Office of Disability Accommodation website at <http://disability.unt.edu/>. You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

13. Important Notice for F-1 Students taking Distance Education Courses:

For F-1 students enrolled in classes for credit or classroom hours, no more than the equivalent of one class or three credits per session, term, semester, trimester, or quarter may be counted toward the full course of study requirement if the class is taken on-line or through distance education and does not require the student's physical attendance for classes, examination or other purposes integral to completion of the class. An on-line or distance education course is a course that is offered principally through the use of television, audio, or computer transmission including open broadcast, closed circuit, cable, microwave, or satellite, audio conferencing, or computer conferencing. If the F-1 student's course of study is in a language study program, no on-line or distance education classes may be considered to count toward a student's full course of study requirement.

University of North Texas Compliance

To comply with immigration regulations, an F-1 visa holder within the United States may need to engage in an on-campus experiential component for this course. This component (which must be approved in advance by the instructor) can include activities such as taking an on-campus exam, participating in an on-campus lecture or lab activity, or other on-campus experience integral to the completion of this course.

If such an on-campus activity is required, it is the student's responsibility to do the following:

- (1) Submit a written request to the instructor for an on-campus experiential component within one week of the start of the course.
- (2) Ensure that the activity on campus takes place and the instructor documents it in writing with a notice sent to the International Student and Scholar Services Office. ISSS has a form available that you may use for this purpose.

Because the decision may have serious immigration consequences, if an F-1 student is unsure about his or her need to participate in an on-campus experiential component for this course, s/he should contact the UNT International Student and Scholar Services Office (telephone 940-565-2195 or email internationaladvising@unt.edu) to get clarification before the one-week deadline.
