

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION FOR MASTER'S IN APPLIED ANTHROPOLOGY

Eligibility: The Department of Anthropology has a limited number of scholarships of $1,000 and $5,000 each per academic year. In order to be eligible, students must be in their first year of graduate study and enrolled in 9 credit hours per semester for on-campus students or 6 credit hours per semester for online students.

Submission: Students interested in applying for scholarships must submit this application with their application for admission by January 15th for the Fall term. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Name in full:

UNT Student ID#:

Mailing Address:

Phone:

Date you plan to enter program:

Email:

Please answer the following question on additional sheets of paper:

1. Please describe your extra-curricular activities, past or present, related to the field of anthropology. Possibilities might include international work, participation in an anthropology club, teaching or internships, fieldwork or research experience, community activities or service, attending conferences, writing about anthropology, or the promotion of anthropology in any form. Please interpret "anthropology related" in a broad sense; even if an activity is associated with a different discipline, it should be listed if it relates to or overlaps with anthropology.