Course Description

We will study the origins and the historical development of Mesoamerica through three major historical periods: Pre-Hispanic, Colonial and Contemporary.

The Pre-Hispanic period is focused on the ways of life, including the crucial role of ideology, cosmology and astronomy in the emergence and development of Mesoamerican cultures and civilizations.

The Colonial era is anthropologically examined to identify the political, economic and ideological factors emerging from Spanish colonialist regime, with significant influences in modern and contemporary cultural and political processes throughout the Mesoamerican region.

Finally, students will examine the broad diversity of rural, urban and transnational Mesoamerica today. Course activities will include readings, class discussion, and documentaries.

Course Vision

This course is conceptualized to be transformative by exposing students to the understanding of CULTURE using the complex diversity of Mesoamerica as a study case. For this, students will learn about anthropological perspective and how to use it to analyze the past and present cultural processes in the Mesoamerica region.

Course Objectives

The general purpose of this course is:
1. To learn and extend understanding of basic anthropological principles.
2. To provide in-depth cultural analysis
3. To strengthen critical thinking skills in the context of the discipline of Anthropology
4. To enhance written and oral communication skills.

Specific course objectives include:
1. Exercise the anthropological approach in the understanding of Mesoamerica.
2. Exercise critical thinking in the analysis of past and present ideologies related to different cultural traditions in the Mesoamerica region, through general discussion
3. Understand the broad diversity of past and current cultures in Mesoamerica.
4. Understand the participation, impact and resistance of Mesoamerica toward global trend

Required Readings

This textbook will be identified in the syllabus as (LM)

Other course readings available via Canvas course page.

Communication

I hope to create an open and responsive communication system in several ways:
1. Emails will be responded to within 24 hours. If you don’t hear back within 24 hours, try again to insure it didn’t get lost in clutter.

2. Office appointments are encouraged so that you can be sure that you are understanding the material and the expectations for assignments. Appointment availability is set across a wide range of times to facilitate work schedules.

3. Class seminar discussions are a great time to ask questions about content and assignments. If you have the question, the chances are someone else does too and everyone can learn from one another.

ADA Policy
Please discuss your accommodations (whether “verified” or not) with me as soon as possible so that we can make a plan to ensure your success. UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one’s specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time; however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the ODA website (https://disability.unt.edu/).

About the Requirements

Reading Comments
This assignment gives me valuable feedback on how you read and understand the material and where your biggest questions are. The Reading Comments will always have four segments:

1. Quotes. Selection of quotes from the material that stand out to you, with citation of page number and title or author. Example: (Re Cruz, 1996: 26).
2. Reflection/Commentary. Your synthesis/analysis of what was most important to you in the reading(s).
3. Questions. Several questions that you would like to share with me, and your classmates.

Comprehensive Exercises
These essay-based exercises are based on several integrative questions, which will be distributed one week in advance. These questions on the exam will be drawn from the readings, and discussions. Your response must include the references you used.

Required Ethnographies
Students select one of the ethnographies below. This is an opportunity to use the anthropological perspective in the understanding of the particular contemporary case addressed by these different authors. With this essay, students will demonstrate their anthropological analysis and their understanding of the material provided throughout the semester.

Rules of Engagement

Rules of engagement refer to the way students are expected to interact with each other and with their instructors online. Here are some general guidelines:

- Treat your instructor and classmates with respect in email or any other communication.
- Use standard fonts such as Arial, Calibri or Times new Roman and use a size 10 or 12 point font
- Avoid using the caps lock feature AS IT CAN BE INTERPRETTED AS YELLING.
- Be cautious when using humor or sarcasm as tone is sometimes lost in an email or discussion post and your message might be taken seriously or sound offensive.
- Be careful with personal information (both yours and other’s).
- Do not send confidential information via e-mail

See these Engagement Guidelines (https://clear.unt.edu/online-communication-tips) for more information. Feel free to discuss these – some include implicit bias, others not.

Academic Integrity Policy
Academic dishonesty of any kind, including plagiarism, cheating, forgery, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, and sabotage, will result in, at minimum, a grade of F for the product, and may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University. As defined by UNT policy 06.003, Student Standards of Academic Integrity (https://policy.unt.edu/sites/default/files/06.003_AcademicIntegrity_2009_0.pdf), plagiarism is “Use of another’s thoughts or words without proper attribution in any academic exercise, regardless of the student’s intent, including but not limited to:

1. the knowing or negligent use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgement or citation.

2. the knowing or negligent unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or by an agency engaged in selling term papers or other academic materials.”
