Course Description:
With the goal of asking how we might make fairer cities, this class seeks to understand historically and ethnographically how political, social, and economic structures have shaped urban society and how people-centered movements might regain “rights to the city”. We will focus on local examples of urban social justice causes in Denton and Dallas.

Course Objectives:
1. Students will apply urban concepts to their everyday life through creative assignments.
2. Students will analyze structures of inequality throughout the history of cities by engaging in debates, planning exercises, role-plays, and media applications.
3. Students will identify urban theories in contemporary examples.
4. Students will draw from local examples to see and experience processes of urban change.
5. Students will conduct research on UNT student housing issues, and envision how we might re-imagine student housing.

Required Texts: None

All other materials can be found on Canvas under Readings. Articles will be identified by the author’s name and year of publication.

Undergraduate Course Requirements:

I. Readings & Lectures
Students are expected to complete all readings before class.

II. Attendance & Participation
Students are expected to attend and participate in class. Attendance and participation will contribute to 20% of your final grade.

III. Taking it to the streets (and courtroom)
Students are expected to attend four external-to-class experiences:

- February 6: Denton Quakertown/Southeast Trip (during class hours, 3:30-5)

In exchange for time, class will be cancelled on February 27, March 20 and 29.

IV. Assignments
There will be four mini-assignments in the first half of the semester. Based on course material, students will be asked to apply lessons to some “urban” phenomena they observe in their world. Assignments will consist of short essay and/or creative exploration of their observation. Each assignment will be scored out of 10 points. Altogether the four assignments will contribute to 20% of your final grade.

V. Midterm Paper
There will one midterm paper that asks you to apply Right to the City (RTTC) to one historical urban case covered in the class. The paper will be 1000-1500 words and graded out of 100 points. The paper will account for 30% of your final grade.

VI. Final Project
Based on archival and fieldwork research on UNT student housing, students will contribute to a final report and presentation. All of the work for this project will contribute to 30% of their final grade.

Academic Integrity Standards and Consequences
According to UNT Policy 06.003, Student Academic Integrity (Links to an external site.), academic dishonesty occurs when students engage in behaviors including, but not limited to: cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, forgery, plagiarism, and sabotage. A finding of academic dishonesty may result in a range of academic penalties or sanctions ranging from admonition to expulsion from the University.

Acceptable Student Behavior
Student behavior that interferes with an instructor’s ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct (Links to an external site.). The University's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including University and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Dean of Students Office (Links to an external site.) enforces the Code of Student Conduct (Links to an external site.). The Code explains what conduct is prohibited, the process the DOS uses to review reports of alleged misconduct by students, and the sanctions that can be assigned. When students may have violated the Code they meet with a representative from the Dean of Students Office to discuss the alleged misconduct in an educational process.

ADA Accommodation
UNT makes reasonable academic accommodation for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodation must first register with the Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the ODA will provide a student with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding one’s specific course needs. Students may request accommodations at any time, however, ODA notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delay in implementation. Note that students must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. For additional information see the ODA website (Links to an external site.). You may also contact them by phone at 940.565.4323.

Sexual Assault Prevention

UNT is committed to providing a safe learning environment free of all forms of sexual misconduct. Federal laws and UNT policies prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex as well as sexual misconduct. If you or someone you know is experiencing sexual harassment, relationship violence, stalking and/or sexual assault, there are campus resources available to provide support and assistance. The Survivor Advocates can be reached at SurvivorAdvocate@unt.edu or by calling the Dean of Students Office at 940-565-2648. Visit Title IX Student Information (Links to an external site.) for more resources.

Emergency Notification & Procedures

UNT uses a system called Eagle Alert (Links to an external site.) to quickly notify students with critical information in the event of an emergency (i.e., severe weather, campus closing, and health and public safety emergencies like chemical spills, fires, or violence). In the event of a university closure, please refer to Blackboard for contingency plans for covering course materials.

Withdrawal

If you are unable to complete this course you must officially withdraw by the University-designated date (for a “W” with instructor approval). Withdrawing from a course is a formal procedure that YOU must initiate. I cannot do it for you. If you simply stop attending and do not withdraw, you will receive a performance grade, usually an “F.”

Late Coursework

Late coursework will not be accepted over email. I will NOT accept work via email, so please do not send it. Late work will only be accepted for credit if accompanied by a note from a medical professional attesting to your inability to complete it. No other exceptions will be considered.
